

Emily Anthony

ASSOCIATE MANAGING DIRECTOR, PHILADELPHIA

For the past decade, Emily has successfully helped companies grow in exposure as well as size. Her expertise spans across HR and Talent, with a heavy focus on recruiting and internal/external employee marketing. Emily joined the Centerstone team in 2017, and her areas of focus are mid-level to executive recruiting in the healthcare, data/technology, and logistics industries.

Prior to joining Centerstone, Emily served as an HR Partner for a data analytics company and Research Assistant at American University's Kogod School of Business.

Emily holds a degree in Business Administration from American University, with a focus on Management and Entrepreneurship, and is completing her Masters in Organization Development and Change from Penn State University. She holds a SHRM-SCP certification and is on an advisory board for the American Association for Cancer Research (AACR).
